CEO ELLIS, STUDENTS DISCUSS LEADERSHIP

Marist School students participate in a Q & A with CEO Ellis

DECATUR – DeKalb County CEO Burrell Ellis recently joined Marist School Principal Fr. Joel Konzen and students in his leadership class for an up close and personal discussion on leadership. About 17 eleventh and twelfth grade students participated in a question and answer session with CEO Ellis as a part of their leadership course.

“I enjoyed the opportunity to participate in an engaging discussion about leadership with some of DeKalb County’s brightest students,” CEO Ellis. “I would not be surprised to see community leaders emerge from this fine group of students.”

The leadership course offered at Marist School probes the meaning and content of leadership through several avenues including readings and research in the field of leadership and discussions with visiting business, non-profit, political, religious, and student leaders.
