DeKalb Tax Commissioner announces Saturday closings, Satellite offices to remain open

DeKalb County Tax Commissioner, Claudia G. Lawson, announced today that her main office located at 4380 Memorial Drive in Decatur, will no longer offer Saturday service hours due to budgetary constraints.

Taxpayers are encouraged to visit the main office as well as the two satellite offices that were spared from being closed permanently due to the 2011 DeKalb County budget shortfall, Monday thru Friday, 8AM – 4:30PM.

“It has been my goal from the beginning to keep the satellite offices open for the citizens of this great county who expect and deserve to be serviced as quickly as possible when meeting their tax and tag obligations. I appreciate the County’s Finance, Audit and Budget committee for listening and then agreeing not to cut these essential services in their revised budget” said Tax Commissioner Lawson. According to Lawson, the Board of Commissioners partially restored her budget request which enabled her to keep the satellite offices open with reductions in other programs within her office.
